

The shadow healing spread soul card interpretations

London Tarot Conference 2007 talk transcript

0. The Fool:

The Fool soul has the powers of faith, hope, enthusiasm and openness and is focused on experiencing its full expression in the world. The natural essence of this soul is freedom and it lives to explore and discover the World and to share its wonder of life with others.

1. The Magician:

The Magician soul is gifted with the ability to open to inspiration and spirit and to walk a path guided by them. It has the ability to focus energy and the will to manifest dreams and goals, and the strength to take action towards them. It has powerful connections to the spiritual realms which it can use to benefit others.

2. The High Priestess:

The High Priestess soul has a strong connection to the realms of intuition and to the Divine Feminine. It has the ability to be sensitive to energies and emotions, has strong empathic powers, and the ability to 'feel' its way through life. Life for this soul is a mystery to be lived, not analysed or explored.

3. The Empress:

The Empress soul has strong powers of passion, nurturing and creativity, and like the Devil card has a powerful connection to the energies of nature, the material world and life-force. It has the power to create connections through feelings and sensuality and express itself through creative projects, motherhood, caring and abundance.

4. The Emperor:

Emperor soul has strong powers of leadership and authority. It has the strength to take on responsibility, to protect and serve others and to create order and boundaries. It expresses itself through mentoring, strong principals, rational thinking, and creating positive environments for other people.

5. The High Priest:

The High Priest soul has a natural affinity for guiding and teaching people. It has a strong connection to the ancestral realms and ancient traditions. It has the ability to both work within and to create structure and organisation, and understand complex ideas, especially spiritual and religious ideas. It expresses itself through the reawakening of traditional wisdom.

6. The Lovers:

The Lover soul is one which is able to surrender to the Universe and live life as an act of love and devotion. Its natural essence is one of acceptance, humility, oneness, and tolerance. It has the powers of mediation, healing and harmony, which it offers to the World.

7. The Chariot:

The Chariot soul has the strength, control and willpower to master the World. It has the natural wisdom of when to take action and when to surrender, and to work with the flow of energy to manifest reality. Its natural essence is one of movement and expresses itself through success, travelling, and new horizons.

8. Strength:

The Strength soul has strong connections to instinct, life force and Nature, and has the powers of courage and awareness which rise out of compassion and faith. Its natural essence is one of connecting to the World through love, trust and compassionate awareness, making life a dance rather than a challenge.

9. The Hermit:

The Hermit soul has the powers of centredness, oneness, inner peace and being complete. It expresses itself by being both part of the World and not part of the World. Its natural essence calls it to offer spiritual mentoring, to live close to Nature, and to work for the benefit of the enlightenment of all.

10. The Wheel:

The Wheel soul has the natural ability to sense and trust in the process and flow of life. It has strong powers of grounding creating confidence, surrender, optimism and self belief. It expresses itself through creating a safe haven and supporting others through challenges and change.

11. Justice:

The Justice soul has a deep understanding of connection and the ability to sense energy flow. It has a natural affinity for harmony and balance, and expresses itself through action based on an inner feeling of 'rightness' and mental clarity. Its honesty and integrity demands that it lives intone with its true nature.

12. The Hanged Man:

The Hanged Man soul has powers of transformation, shamanic travel, and surrender. It has the natural ability to go beyond the everyday nature of reality, seeing the patterns and cycles of life from the central pivot, and to teach surrender through actions of love and deep self-acceptance.

13. Death:

The Death soul has strong powers of creating transformation. Guided by deep awareness of the flow of energy and love, it knows not only the time for change, but what that change should be and where it will lead. The soul expresses itself in changing conditions and environments for people to initiate change, and in supporting them with love through the change.

14. Temperance:

The Temperance soul has the power to be comfortable and flow between worlds. It expresses itself by working in harmony with the world of the shadow and of the spirit bringing inspiration, insight, creativity and love into the everyday world. It also has the power through resonance to bring its power to others.

15. The Devil:

The Devil soul is one which has a powerful connection to the energies of Nature, of the material world, of life force and drive. It has the Universal power to hold and bind which creates new structures, connections and life. Its natural expression is through its creativity, often linked to Nature.

16. The Blasted Tower:

The Blasted Tower soul has transformative and inspirational powers, and the ability to break through the illusions of the ego, of society and reality. It has the power to sense patterns, break patterns and create new patterns, and to express itself through changing things for the better. The natural essence of this soul is to create new understanding and levels of awareness.

17. The Star:

The Star soul has gentle but powerful healing abilities. It has the power to bring completeness and wholeness to others through its own essence of tranquillity, peace and calm. It has the natural ability to channel healing energy and a strong connection to the Divine Feminine.

18. The Moon:

The Moon soul has strong psychic powers and has the ability to travel the realms of dreams and the astral plane. It has the power to read the future and work with Nature spirits and forces. Its natural connection to the Divine Feminine means that its essence flows and changes its expression allowing it to take on different forms.

19. The Sun:

The Sun soul radiates powerful positive healing energy. It has the power to restore life force and to generate creativity, enthusiasm, and optimism in others. Its essence is one of joy which when given true freedom brings infectious inner strength, confidence, success and total self acceptance.

20. Judgement:

The Judgement soul has the power to awaken others to their true self and life's path. It has the ability to release blocks and past memories which limit growth, and to see things as they truly are, especially the effects of decisions and actions. Its natural expression is to remove illusion and to initiate new growth.

21. The World:

The World soul has a natural state of completeness, meaning that fulfilment comes purely from the soul itself. Through its strong connection to the Universe it has the power to call forth and channel blessings to help and support others. Its natural expression is to radiate happiness and confidence, and to enjoy the whole spectrum of being.
